SUSPENS

Art festival in public space

Brussels 2026

Scenography of the festival pavilion: Basile Fichet, Lorraine Peiry

The project was realized through unpaid contributions from all participants except the photographer and web designer.

How this publication could be used

This is not a booklet.
Well — it is. But it is also six other things. Open the pin. The cards come apart. Even destruction is welcome.

01
A fan

Open the booklet halfway and wave it, when you need it.

02
A sun

Spread all the cards evenly until a full circle appears. The front side is the fragmented panorama of the festival.
The other side shines as a sun.
See it either way.

03
A portrait

If one artist speaks to you, detach that card. Frame it, hang it, place it on your desk.

04
A tarot deck

The 22 project cards mirror the 22 Major Arcana. Detach them all, shuffle, draw one blindly. What do you read?

05
A postcard

After the 22 projects you'll find cards with a blank back. Put a stamp on one. Send it to someone you love.

06
A mask

If none of the above speaks to you: tear the whole thing into as many pieces as you like. Re-assemble the parts, paste a mask. Give it to a child. They'll know what to do with it.

Special thanks to:

Toni!,
Basile Fichet, Lorraine Peiry,
Inès Rogeboz, Océane Noury Boufrayoua,
Mattéo Zavadskis, Conseil Étudiant La Cambre,
Zeye Laura Nsengiyumva, Erwan Maheo,

Carine Fol, Menten Mathieu,
Nathan Mailleux, Jerome Blanchevoye,
Emmanuel Berti, Rouven Lemon,
Emma, Christian Bischof,
William Schwennicke, Math Lecrack

and Clémence Glatigny, Gabriel Brachard, Inès Chastaing, Kai Hamouth,

Mélissande Mainguy, Joséphine Lalanne,
Julie Delaunay, Maëlle Moiny, Pierre Belin

...without you, this wouldn't be possible!

OUPS! is inspired by the spirit of Lilly Emilia Bischof, (as seen on the cover)

Abe Mijnheer, Ameed Jabr, Anna Zurkirchen, Toni!,
Basile Fichet, Belinda Raschle,
Benjamin Klipper,
Daphné Papageorgiou,
Eimi Leggett, Eliane Bertschi,
Emmanuel Berti,
Enora Paniagua,
Gitte Hendrikx, Hoda Siahtiri,
Ida Menard, Inès Rogeboz,
June Dune, Lilas Chausson,
Lorraine Peiry, Luke Shirock,
Manuel Phil. Bischof,
Margarita Shishkova,
Milan Panet-Gigon,
Mimi Wascher,
Nathaniel Moore,
Olia Peetermans,
Oscar Baudot, Rouven Lemon,
Sandrine Bergeron,
Vanessa Cotterell

This edition is for:

copy / 100

OUPS! encourages collaboration between people from different backgrounds and worlds.

OUPS! is dedicated to questioning dominant narratives and shifting the way we perceive the world around us.

...a sound installation, next to the Central Station, turning a glass cube in a speaking body, carried voice messages from the artist's former girlfriend, fragments of a long-distance relationship made public.

...in Molenbeek, passersby were invited into a collective drawing.

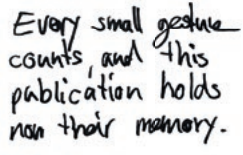

...the statue of Leopold II was subtly rewritten: "Remember our fatherland" shifted into "The heart remembers" through a silver lichen intervention.

...elsewhere, capitalist advertising spaces were temporarily replaced with artworks.

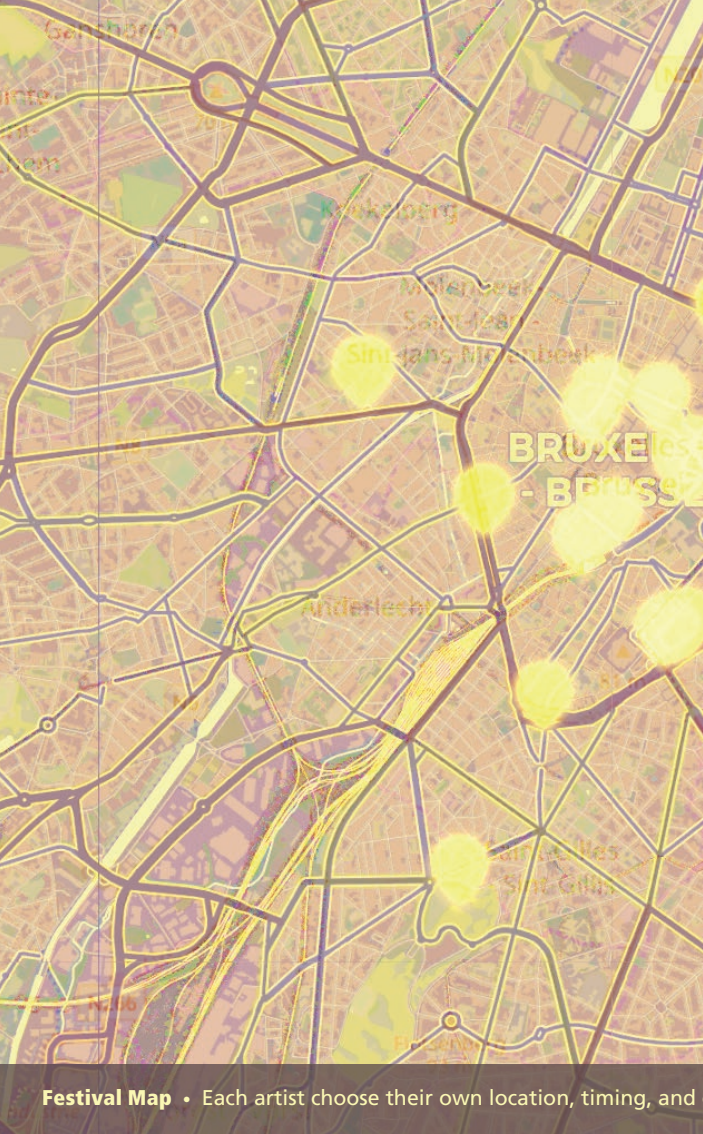

...while the city was sung to through performances of Hafez poems.

OUPS! emerged from a desire to step into the 'real world', seeing public space as a place for encounter, friction, poetry, and conversation.

This first edition took place in Brussels from 9–12 April 2026, bringing together 41 artists across 22 projects.

Future editions of OUPS! will continue to respond to different public settings and social contexts.

Festival Map • Each artist choose their own location, timing, and Schaerbeek - Schaarbeek Sint-Joostten-Node Etterbeek

Ixelles - Elsene

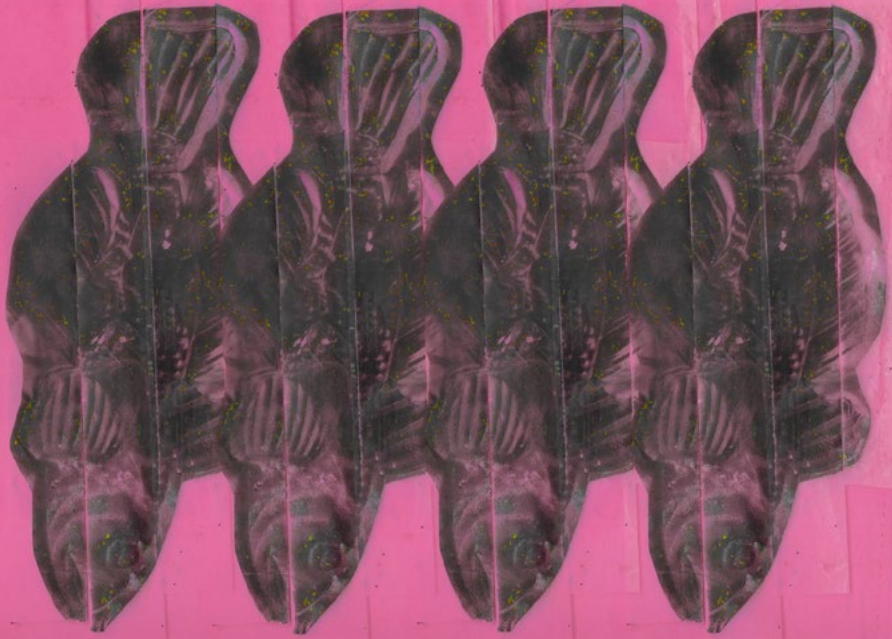

context.

JCDecaux
I AM NOT AFRAID OF YOUR MAGIC.
ELIANE BERTSCHI
OUPS! Festival, a student initiative from La Cambre

I AM NOT AFRAID OF YOUR MAGIC.
I WILL DANCE WITH YOU IN THE MOUNTAINS I WILL IMAGINE FREEDOM. with you

Advertisement screens were built to sell. For the duration of this festival, they hold something that asks nothing of you — except, perhaps, a moment.
Three artists. Nine works, curated by Manuel Phil. Bischof

Artworks on digital screen by Eliane Bertschi

Lorraine Peiry

Entre les égouts et les rails du tram La Senne n'est plus visible à cet endroit Elle persiste dans son lit d'égout Voûtée, contenue, déplacée. Réalisation d'un univers miniature évoquant la Senne

@lolapeiry

Message de la part de notre assistante de grammaire en grève :

"Attention, le texte qui va suivre comprendrait des fautes mais orthographiées. Veillez pas vous attacher d'importance. Merci pour votre compréhension."

Le 17 mars 2026 a débuté un chantier d'une envergure colossalle. 200 personnes furent contraintes de travailler. Cette fresque monumentale mesure plus de 600 mètres de long et 100 mètres de haut! Un travail titanesque! Il nous a fallu commander 5000 litres de peinture ROUGE pour venir à bout de ce chantier. On a construit un échaffaudage spectaculaire ainsi que des échelles gigantesques à l'échelle de l'immense slogan. Nous avons ainsi battu le record de l'échelle la plus haute au monde : 1 mètre de large sur 100 mètres de haut! Cette épouvantable entreprise a été réalisée en l'honneur de Guy Debord et de son slogan révolutionnaire écrit en 1953 sur un mur de la rue de Seine à Paris.
Celui-ci est devenu célèbre et retentit un peu par tout dans le monde. Guy Debord disparaît le 30

Ce texte a été rédigé sur une durée de plusieurs mois en raison d'une procrastination générale.

NE TRAVAILLEZ
JAMAIS !

Hafez Oracle

Hoda Siahtiri

Hafez-é-Shirazi is one of the most celebrated persian or farsi speaking poets who lived during 14th century. Hafez is deeply cherished by iranian people. His poetry bridges the spiritual and the earthly, drawing the divine into the human realm. His book of poems (Divan-é Hafez) is often treated as an oracle in iranian culture, with people turning to it for guidance or insight.

Hoda Siahtiri has turned to Hafez in search for such wisdom at the time of wars & extreme violence. Her intention of sharing Hafez words with the city of Brussels & its people, created & led to this intervention.

Hoda is a performance artist who loves to channel ancestral wisdom through her voice & creations.

She enjoys to play and transgress the linear line of past, present & future by letting the sound & words fly around.

REZO infiltrates urban space by adopting the codes of video surveillance in order to subvert them. A suspended concrete forearm emerges like a fragment of a neutralized body, reduced to a single function: holding a phone pointed outward, like a monitoring camera. In the city, where surveillance devices blend into the architecture, the work creates a shift. It replaces the machine with a frozen human trace, as if the act of watching had been absorbed by the body itself. This identity-less arm becomes an ambiguous agent: neither a clearly defined authority nor a simple tool, but an unsettling presence, both passive and active.

The phone, an everyday object, becomes here an instrument of continuous capture, evoking the diffuse surveillance characteristic of contemporary networks. REZO blurs the boundary between institutional control and self-surveillance: anyone can now film, observe, archive. The concrete, heavy and immobile, freezes this gesture in a long, almost carceral temporality, contrasting with the fluidity of the captured images. This tension highlights a subtle violence: that of a constant gaze, internalized, almost accepted. In this environment saturated with visible and invisible cameras, the work raises a simple yet unstable question: at what point do we watch by choice, and at what point do we watch because we have internalized the role of the observer?

REZO

Daphné Papageorgiou

IT BEGINS WITH A CIRCLE DRAWN, REPEATED, RETURNED TO.
NOT A SYMBOL, A TRACE OF SOMETHING ALREADY MOVING. THE CIRCLE ECHOES IN TREE RINGS, [redacted], IN THE SLOW ACCUMULATION OF YEARS, IN THE WAY TIME FOLDS BACK ON ITSELF. TO DRAW IT IS TO PAUSE INSIDE THAT MOVEMENT. TO NOTICE TIME NOT AS LINE, BUT AS A FIELD OF RELATIONS.
SMALL CIRCLES MULTIPLY, SURROUND, EXTEND. THEY ASSEMBLE INTO LARGER RINGS, GATHERING COLOUR, GESTURE, PRESENCE. NO MARK STANDS ALONE, EACH EXISTS THROUGH ITS RELATION TO OTHERS. DIFFERENCE DOES NOT SEPARATE HERE. IT CONNECTS.
IN THE STREETS THE GESTURE OPENS. OTHER CONTINUE IT. HANDS JOIN, MOVEMENTS OVERLAP, AND WHAT BEGAN AS AN INDIVIDUAL ACT BECOME COLLECTIVE, SHAPED TOGETHER, WITHOUT HIERARCHY BETWEEN ONE MARK AND ANOTHER.
THE CIRCLE IS NOT ONLY A FORM. IT IS A WAY OF BEING TOGETHER: NO CENTER, NO EDGE, EVERYTHING INTERSECTING, NOTHING ABOVE.

AMEED JABR

L'ÉCHIQUER sensssible
(or chessss)

Touch me! Eat me! Kill me!
Feel! Feel Everything!

Chess is war.
Territory, strategy, domination.

Chessss is presence.
Erotism, slowing down, sitting down with someone you love, a friend, a stranger.
Chessss is feeling everything.

Dans un monde oculo-centré, comment accéder au savoir par le corps, par le toucher? S'asseoir devant l'échiquier, faire face à son partenaire adversaire, est un geste intime. Apprendre les règles du jeu, les transmettre. réfléchir. Se faire lent·e. ressentir. Ressent le temps qui passe. Regarde mes mains. Touche les pièces lisses et chamottées. Touche le reflet de la lumière sur le plateau, territoire ou champ de bataille. Mes pièces et les tiennes se confondent. Ton pion est mon pion. Je suis ta reine.

Asseyons-nous face à face

é p a u l e s	à	é p a u l e s
c l a v i c u l e s	à	c l a v i c u l e s
s t e r n u m	à	s t e r n u m
p o i g n e t s	à	p o i g n e t s
p a u m e s	à	p a u m e s
v e n t r e	à	v e n t r e
b a s s i n	à	b a s s i n
p e l v i s	à	p e l v i s
c u i s s e s	à	c u i s s e s g e n o u x	à	g e n o u x
c h e v i l l e s	à	c h e v i l l e s

SANDRINE BERGERON-ROUTHIER

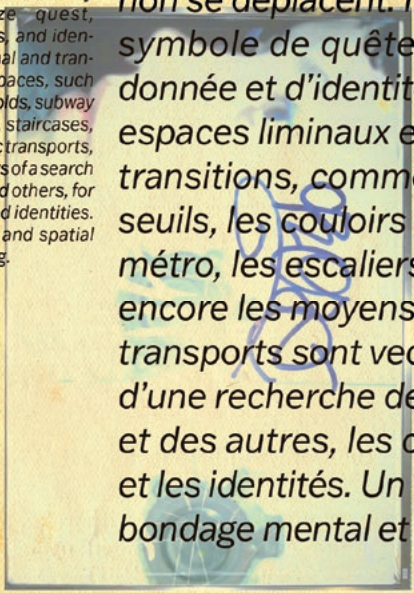

2026, BRUXELLES

Enora Paniagua

Flows, whether tangible or intangible, are in motion. They symbolize quest, givenness, and identity. Liminal and transitional spaces, such as thresholds, subway corridors, staircases, and public transports, are vectors of a search for self and others, for bodies and identities. A mental and spatial wandering.

Les flux, immatériels ou non se déplacent. Ils sont symbole de quête, de donnée et d'identité. Les espaces liminaux et de transitions, comme les seuils, les couloirs de métro, les escaliers ou encore les moyens de transports sont vecteurs d'une recherche de soi et des autres, les corps et les identités. Un vagabondage mental et spacial

LIFEBLOOD RUNS THROUGH THE MACHINES I, II, III AND IV
DIGITAL COMPOSITION WITH PHOTOS AND DRAWINGS
118,9X168,2 CM

Chiendent, itinerancy

Lilas Chausson

Nous sommes allé.es dans la rue et nous avons mis de la terre par terre. Elle était plus rouge que le sol. Nous avons suivi les formes du sol et les ombres. Nous nous sommes bien amusé.es et les gens nous ont souri. Un monsieur s'est arrêté et nous a demandé ce qu'on faisait ? " Nous mettons de la terre par terre, nous sommes en école d'art. " Il a répondu " Ah d'accord, je me suis demandé si vous étiez des personnes qui travail pour la ville. C'est intéressant, si ma fille veut faire de l'art, je ne sais même pas à qui m'adresser. "

Ah oui ! J'avais déjà oublié qu'en arrivant à la Cambre, je cherchais à avoir un art accessible à tout.e.xs. Un art qui ne demande pas d'éducation pour comprendre. Un art hors des galleries, des structures culturelles qui peuvent former une barrière. Un art permettant à mes parents de l'apprécier sans se sentir petits.

Lilas Chausson

la glace sonore dégèle les tissus mous

Ant-view
Performance, 25 min, -
Anna Zurkirchen with Milan Panet- Gigon, Mimi Wascher & Abe Mijnheer
Soundscape: Manuel Bischof

Seated inside a glass shelter, the audience is watching the performance from below.
Gare Care Core
chains of bodies slowed down, aquatic beings shift and pull from the grip of gravity ceiling becomes floor floor pressed on flesh voyeurs glance at the weight of resting while glacier tongues crack and melt and sounding ice
defrosts the soft tissues singing to the drones of a place buzzing from transit through all the stations of eliminated rest

Draw me

Anna Zurkirchen

Video, 7 min, April 2026
a video portrait of people portraying me -

A person a pen & a paper. Draw me without looking at your drawing.
16 portraits, the way you see me, projected back onto your own face.
how much me is in you how much you is in me?
youme meyou

Anna Zurkirchen

Video, 7 min, April 2026
a video portrait of people portraying me - on a pen & a paper. Draw me without looking at your drawing.

traits, the way you see me, projected back onto your own face.
uch
in you uch in me?
e meyou

AOC

Lapis in liquorem versus

A stone of bloom, der blüht und wächst, it blossoms and grows, yet we don't feel.
And still—it touches us every day, whether we will or not.

A liquid stone, silent and unseen,
it flows through us, and we become stiff,
as if turned to winter inside our skin.

Doch then the flower returns,
(a fleur obstinée, quiet but alive,
it pushes, it digs, it remembers the light.

Slowly it breaks us open.
cracks the stone we thought was us,
and everything we built in stillness begins to bröckeln, to crumble, to fall.

And in the fracture something softer breathes again.

Manuel Phil. Bischof

67860035.JPG

IDA HENARD

CE COLLAGE VIENT S'INCORPORER À LA VILLE
IL S'ACCROCHE AUX CICATRICES DE CE MUR

UNE VILLE HABITÉE
CHAQUE INTERSTICE, CHAQUE TRACE, SONT HABITÉES
PAR CELLEUX QUI LE SOUHAITENT ET EN ONT BESOIN

UNE VILLE QUI DÉTRUIT
SANS REGARDER EN ARRIÈRE

UNE VILLE QUI CHANGE
ELLE SE TRANSFORME SANS CESSE, EMPILE SES OUBLIS.

Cette photo fait appel à des souvenirs, elle a une atmosphère fantomatique où se mêle du mobilier urbain, donnant une impression d'absence et d'abandon en arrière plan des immeubles en constructions qui témoignent d'un perpétuel changement de la ville, souvent au détriment de nos espaces publics

Ghost in Glass Box
Luke Shirock

Sound Design + Audio Installation Ghosts haunt us. They are in our bedrooms, our cities, our screens—a symptom of our increasingly spectral relationship to the world and to each other: mediated, virtual. Ghosting leaves an empty space, a silhouette, a voice without a body, echoing. What do we do with these phantoms, those who chose disappearance over directness?
What do we do with the traces they left behind? We give them the mourning they deserve; we bury them, in pyramids made of glass; we make public art.

Oups! Luke Shirock

A PAY WHAT YOU CAN/WANT SYSTEM?
GITTE HENDRIKX & EIMI LEGGETT

HEY—YOU, STEP CLOSER.
YES, YOU, WITH THE NICELY COMPOSED POSTURE AND THE SLIGHTLY TOO-TIGHT SHOULDERS.
THIS IS AN INVITATION, NOT A DIAGNOSIS (ALTHOUGH... THERE MIGHT BE SOMETHING TO LOOSEN UP). MOST OF US ARE A LITTLE OUT OF PRACTICE WHEN IT COMES TO TOUCH, BUT AT LEAST THERE'S THE BRUSSELS KISS— AN AUTOMATIC PECK ON THE CHEEKS THAT SPARES US. A HANDSHAKE OR A HUG— MOSTLY RESERVED FOR FRIENDSHIP OR EMOTIONAL EMERGENCIES. TOUCH HAS RULES. IT NEEDS CONSENT. IT HAS TIMING.

IT CAN BE AWKWARD. WE OFFER A TENDER-HEARTED PUBLIC MASSAGE—AN INVITATION TO LET TOUCH SLIP INTO SHARED SPACE. A PLACE WHERE CARE MIGHT SURFACE, THOUGH IT OFTEN GETS LOST IN THE QUIET BRUTALITY OF DISTANCE, REHEARSED UNDER THE NAME "STRANGER." PUBLIC MASSAGE IS PHYSICAL, ENERGETIC, DELIBERATELY SO—BOTH INTERRUPTING AND SYNCING WITH THE CHOREOGRAPHY OF PASSING, AVOIDING, CHATTING, WAITING, BRUSHINGBY, AND MAYBE, EVENTUALLY, WONDERING IF ANYTHING HAPPENED BETWEEN POINT A AND POINT B. MAYBE, FOR ONCE, NOTHING HAS TO HAPPEN. IT CAN BE STRANGELY COZY, YET SELF-CONSCIOUS—GENEROUS AND PROBABLY A LITTLE FUNNY TOO. AN UNUSUAL ACT WITHOUT A GRAND SOLUTION, JUST A SMALL SHIFT: NOTICING CARE, ENJOYING ATTENTIVE SUPPORT FOR YOUR BODY. MAYBE A DIFFERENT WAY TO MEET AND EXCHANGE.

CAN CARE BE CASUAL? CAN TOUCH BE PUBLIC?
OR MAYBE... YOU'VE BEEN TENSE SINCE 2013?

(THIS PROJECT MARKS THE BEGINNING OF A BROADER RESEARCH INTO PUBLIC MASSAGE, MOBILE TECHNIQUES, AND INTERACTIVE OBJECTS THAT COULD CIRCULATE THROUGH CONFERENCES, LECTURES, GATHERINGS, AND PERFORMANCES—QUIETLY REDISTRIBUTING ATTENTION ACROSS THE BODY.)

Ghost Dancer

Nathaniel Moore

The world is haunted.
Objects around us are filled with ghosts, the people who made them, rendered invisible by global capital. These ghosts travel in the fabric of our clothes, our toothpaste, our machines, our food. As we consume them, we become invisible too.
You are what you eat : consume displacement, become displaced. We have no connection to the things that make us. This is the condition of the consumer.

Yet consuming invisibilized people produces byproducts: guilt, because each action betrays our values; and anxiety, because every haunted object pulls us further from the real, floating in privileged abstraction, upheld by an infrastructure of ghosts. This is our 21st century malady. We become ghosts to our own world.

For those already made invisible, survival is radical.
For others, maybe like me, maybe like you, going mad is refusal, acknowledgement, alignment.

REGI

186

ATRI

Atria Memor

Manuel Phil. Bischof

The heart remembers, and we will not forget.

A small gesture to change the colonial narrative by placing a lichen cast in silver on the pedestal of the Leopold II statue, covering the P of PATRIA MEMOR

(Lat. patria, «homeland»; memor, «mindful of/ remembering»).

What remains is ATRIA-MEMOR

(Lat. atria, «chambers of the heart»; memor, «mindful of/remembering»)
«the heart remembers.»

Vanessa Cotterell

Nature in suspense

My installations are lightweight, mobile, and slightly dreamlike, featuring birds, clouds, and water. Suspended on scaffolding, construction structures, or hung in parks, they offer a gentle contrast to Brussels' dense, urban landscape. Through these pieces, I aim to soften spaces, invite reflection (mentally and visibly - by using reflective materials) on what's missing in our city environment, and reconnect with overlooked elements of nature still present but often hidden in Brussels.

I experiment with textiles, embroidery, wire mobiles, and recycled materials, drawing inspiration from familiar elements, like those from childhood, or traditional crafts such as stitching and embroidery passed down by women across different cultures. I enjoy mixing materials and finding simple ways to bring imagination into everyday objects.

TIMBEER 01

D'abord conçu pour être des mannequins devant chuter d'un très haut étages, ces peluches jeux vidéos. Leur suspension au sein des locaux de la STIB permet de fonder une attention qui se pose la question de leur présence. Un deuxième mode de présence pourrait être leur accumulation : ils emplissent toute la vitrine, en un tas un peu désordonné.

Benjamin Klipper dit Kurz & Oscar Baudot

adidas OSTON ATHON

Margarita Shishkova

HANDLE WITH CARE

Mon projet consiste en une installation suspendue composée de pièces de lingerie disposées en constellation, reliées entre elles par un fil rouge et centrées autour d'une étiquette monumentale inspirée du langage commercial. Ce dispositif, initialement pensé pour un espace d'exposition, est volontairement déplacé vers un contexte inattendu : une vitrine du quartier Nord de Brussels, un espace marqué par la circulation, la consommation et la visibilité des corps féminins. Ce déplacement est essentiel. Il permet de faire glisser l'œuvre d'un statut artistique vers une zone ambiguë, à la frontière entre exposition et mise en vitrine. La lingerie suspendue devient alors à la fois objet esthétique, trace du corps et produit potentiel. Au centre, l'étiquette introduit un langage froid et administratif, où la notion de "produit" se confond progressivement avec celle de "femme". Ce glissement interroge la manière dont la valeur est attribuée : valeur marchande, valeur symbolique, valeur du corps. Dans ce contexte spécifique, l'œuvre entre en tension avec l'économie du lieu. Elle dialogue implicitement avec la présence des travailleuses du sexe, sans les représenter directement, mais en questionnant les systèmes de regard, de projection et d'échange qui structurent cet espace. Le public principal devient alors un public non captif, composé notamment d'hommes venus consommer. L'installation ne s'adresse pas frontalement à eux, mais les inclut dans un dispositif où leur position de regardeur est mise en jeu. Ils traversent un espace où les signes du corps féminin sont à la fois esthétisés et reconfigurés, créant un léger déplacement perceptif. Si une transaction financière est nécessaire pour occuper la vitrine, elle devient elle-même partie intégrante du projet. L'artiste se retrouve dans une position ambiguë, à la fois productrice d'une œuvre et actrice d'un échange économique, rejouant à une autre échelle les logiques de valeur et de négociation présentes dans le contexte. Le projet ne cherche pas à produire une critique frontale, mais plutôt à ouvrir un espace de questionnement. Il met en tension différentes formes de valeur et de visibilité, sans proposer de réponse unique. Cette réflexion peut être mise en lien avec des écritures comme celles de Nelly Arcan, qui explorent les rapports entre corps, regard, désir et marchandisation, en restant dans une zone de complexité et d'ambiguïté. Enfin, ce projet pourrait évoluer vers une dimension performative, où ma propre présence viendrait s'inscrire dans ce dispositif, prolongeant cette réflexion en m'y impliquant directement.

Rue d'Herschot 88
1030 Schaerbeek
PRODUCT: WOMAN
COLOR: VARIABLE
FABRIC: LACE
CONDITION: WORN
PRICE: € ON REQ.
MARKET: UNSTABLE
UNCONTROLLED HANDLING MAY RESULT IN DAMAGE PRODUCT COLOR
FABRIC: LACE
CONDITION: WORN
PRICE: € ON REQ.
MARKET: UNSTABLE
UNCONTROLLED HANDLING MAY RESULT IN DAMAGE

JCDecaux
Fais des erreurs
et fais-les lentement

♥

Fais des erreurs
et fais-les lentement

♥

La clé c'est l'empathie

♥

Écris ton dernier rêve

♥

Nothing to buy. No pressure. That's already radical, maybe political?

Artworks on digital screen by Belinda Raschle & Emmanuel Berti

9 - 11 April 2026

SOLO

Opening 9 April 18h Performance

art in public space
www.oupsfestival.be

Card design: Manuel Phil. Bischof

OUPS! Festival ✳ Art in Public Space ✳ Brussels, 9 - 12 April 2026

OUPS!
URBAN ART FESTIVAL
9.4.-
11.4.
2026
FREE ENTRY
INFO, PROGRAM AND MAP:
WWW.OUPSFESTIVAL.BE CANTERSTEEN 1,
1000 BRUXELLES

Card design: Emmanuel Berti

OUPS! Festival ✳ Art in Public Space ✳ Brussels, 9 - 12 April 2026

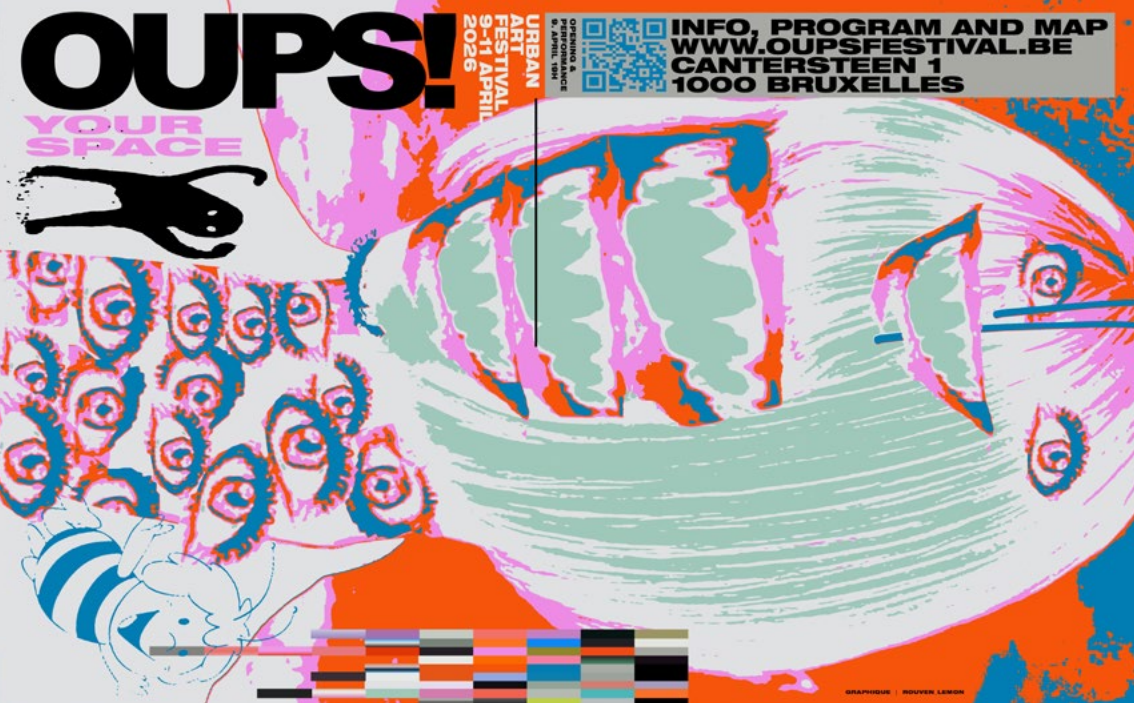

OUPS!

YOUR SPACE

URBAN ART FESTIVAL
9-11 APRIL 2026

OPENING & PERFORMANCE
9. APRIL 18H

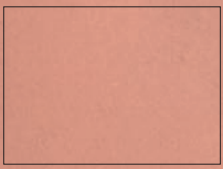

INFO, PROGRAM AND MAP
WWW.OUPSFESTIVAL.BE CANTERSTEEN 1
1000 BRUXELLES

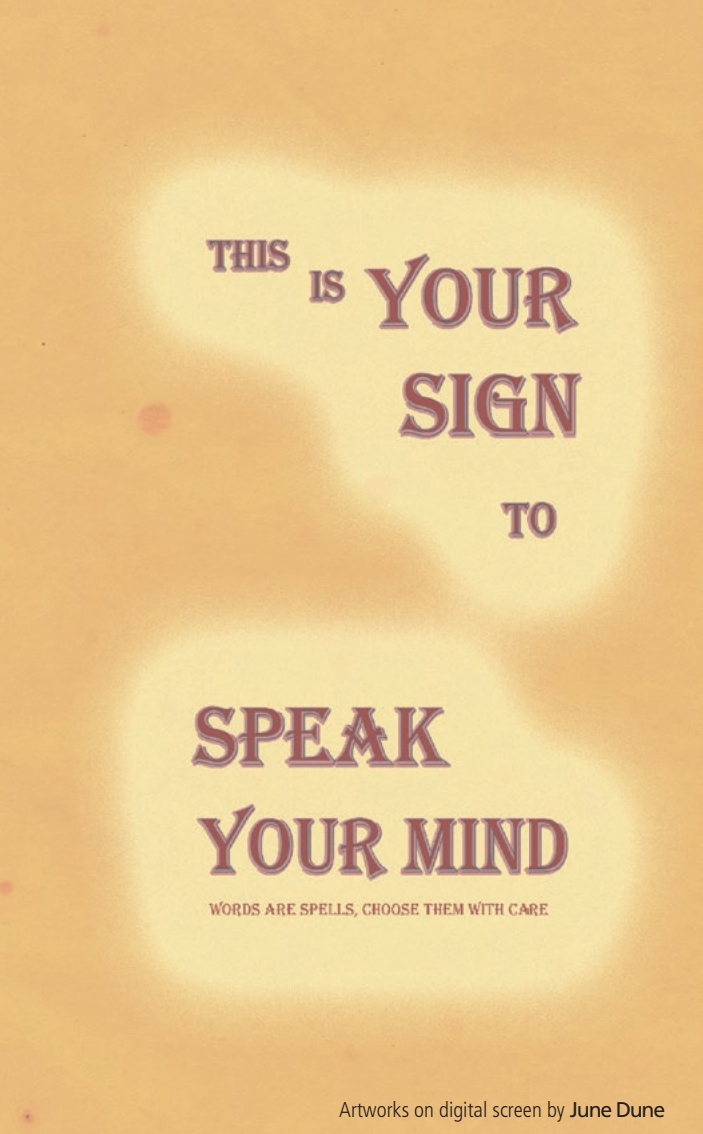

GRAPHIQUE | ROUVEN LEMON

Card design: Rouven Lemon

OUPS! Festival ✶ Art in Public Space ✶ Brussels, 9 - 12 April 2026

Artworks on digital screen by June Dune

ONE AMONG ALL ALL AMONG ONE
YOU ARE NEVER ALONE

Concept
Creative Direction
Editor Publication
Manuel Phil. Bischof

Texts by the artists

Graphic Design Artist Pages
Clémence Glatigny, Gabriel Brachard, Kai Hamouth, Joséphine Lalanne, Julie Delaunay, Maëlle Moiny, Inès Chastaing, Mélissande Mainguy, Pierre Belin

Artists
See page 4

Scenography Pavillon
Basile Fichet, Lorraine Peiry

Website and Food
Toni!

Photography
Math Lecrack, William Schwennicke

Posters
Rouven Lemon, Emmanuel Berti

Social Media and Events
Inès Rogeboz

Print
Clémence Glatigny, La Cambre

Partners
La Cambre · STIB · JCDecaux

© 2026, OUPS! Festival initiated by Manuel Phil. Bischof

Editorial Note: Minor adaptations were made to select pages for visual consistency.

oupsfestival.be

Rouven Lemon,

Ghost